LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN MONTGOMERY COUNTY

VOLUME XX

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 1911.

NUMBER 49

ATLANTIC CITY CONTEST IS AROUSING INTENSE INTEREST.

There is Some Shifting of Positions, But No One Has a Very Big Lead.---Every Pleasure That Can be Added for the Entertainment of Advocate Girls is Planned.

IT IS UP TO THE GIRLS.

The big contest has started off much better than we expected. In fact we never knew of a contest where so much interest has been manifested in so short a time. It will be seen from a glance at the standing of the candidates that there has been some work already done. Friends of the contestants seem to be interested as much or more than the contestants so far. Subscriptions have been coming right along, both old and new, and the coupons are being clipped. Some of the contestants do not as yet understand that they can turn in subscriptions and receive certificates for votes, but they do not have to cast the votes until they so decide. A good number of these certificates have been issued and are being held back.

The ballot box has been placed in the Advocate office and those who wish to vote coupons can do so by placing them in the ballot box in the window of the Advocate office. These coupons count the same as subscriptions. Cut them out and vote them. They will appear in every issue of this paper.

During this week the vote has been heavy considering the short period the contest has been open. Friends are dividing their votes among the young ladies, and we find that a large number of these friends have not as yet been solicited by the young ladies. Subscribers figure that they are not out one cent extra for this paper and they are willing to help any young lady who will ask them for the votes on their subscription. These young ladies should ever keep in mind the story of the early bird. There is going to be some surprises in our next issue giving the standing of the young ladies. The contest is the talk of the town. District No. 5 as you will see from the list published today is the district containing the largest number of contestants. There promises to be a lively fight in this district.

WHO WILL WIN.

Who will win in this wonderful race is now the question you hear on every side. Some of the girls who were given the bonas of 3000 votes are still where they started, while others have been doing some hustling. It is only going to take a little hustle early on the part of the candidates who win in this race. When you take into consideration that this big trip covers some of the leading cities of the United States, in addition to the grandest pleasure resorts in the whole world, it is no wonder such interest has been worked up already.

A number of new candidates have been entered already this week and a few have arrived too late for this issue. Next week the nominations will close and then you can select from the list printed the young lady you want to help in this contest. Please remember that the nominations positively close with next week and no one will be allowed to enter except where some young lady decides to quit and give her votes to some one who is not already in the contest.

One young lady who brought in some votes this week remarked, that she did not know it was so easy to get subscriptions in this contest. "The people are waiting to be asked" she said. It is simply up to the young ladies as to who will win. Get an early lead, see your friends, call at the Advocate office and get in touch with the contest and keep your name at the top of the list. Those who win will be the ones who hustle, and hustle early for votes.

A WORD TO THE CANDIDATES.

This week we publish a list of the candidates and their standing in each of the five districts. The vote will be counted on the night before publication. You can send these votes in by mail, deposit them in our ballot box which is established in the Advocate office. We would advise that you get all the votes possible and have them in this office or in the ballot box before Tuesday night of each week so you will stand well up in the list at the start. Your friends will then come to your assistance and help keep you up at the top of the list all through the contest. Many of the Advocate readers are looking after the interests of their favorites without telling her a word about it. Some will not know that they are being helped until they see the result published. There is a surprise in store for both our readers and the candidates. Get the free vote certificate that will appear in each issue of the Advocate and vote them for your choice each week.

No contestant in this race will be allowed to withdraw in favor of any other candidate, that is to transfer her votes to some other candidate. She may however give her votes to some young lady that is not now in the race, should she so desire. This rule will not be broken under any circumstances. Nominations for candidates will close in a short time and those who do not get in at once will be out of the race. Everything will be conducted in a straight forward manner and every candidate will be given a square deal in every respect.

ABOUT THE BIG TRIP EAST.

This great contest is the one rare opportunity for many a young lady to see something of the great world that lies to the East, to see it and enjoy it much better than if she went alone, and that, too, without one cent of cost to her. Now isn't it worth a little effort on your part girls? Atlantic City, "Vanity Fair By the Sea" that most beautiful and fashionable center, where even the sun seems to shine brighter than on any other shore retreat, is too well and favorably known to call for extensive exposition of many attractive beauties that lure thousands to its

WOODS--ANDERSON

Miss Sallie Taylor Woods Became the Bride of Grover C. Anderson at Stanford Last Thursday.

In the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends at the Baptist church, at Stanford, last Thursday at three o'clock, Miss Sallie Taylor Woods, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Woods, of Lincoln county, and Mr. Grover C. Anderson, of Mt. Sterling were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Jones, and was beautiful in every detail. Loving hands had made the House of God a bower of loveliness and beauty for the happy occasion. The altar was a perfect mass of green, potted plants, ferns and smilax being cleverly interwoven to form an attractive background. Overhead, stretched across the width of the church was arch of smilax dotted with pink roses. The altar and chancel gleamed with the light of many candles, in pink and white held by handsome silver and crystal candelabra. The house had been darkened and the subdued glow from electric bulbs overhead lent a soft radiance to the scene which further enhanced its beauty.

Just before the wedding party came in Mrs. W. C. Shanks sang the beautiful song, "Garden of Roses" and the touching melody and sweetness of her voice added greatly to the solemnity of the occasion.

Then to the glad wedding chorus from Lohengrin the wedding procession began. First came the ribbon bearers, sweetly dressed in white, all nieces and nephews of the bride, Pearl and Robert Embry and Margaret and Julian Allen. The ushers, Messrs. Will Tipton and Harry Howell, of Mt. Sterling; R. B. Woods and R. W. Milburn, of Stanford, followed in pairs down each aisle. Miss Susan Fisher Woods, sister of the bride, maid of honor and her only attendant then came next. Miss Woods was beautiful in an exquisite gown of yellow embroidered chiffon with pearl trimmings, and carried pink roses. After her came the flower girls in pink and white, Mary Louise Woods and Elizabeth Bush Allen, also nieces of the bride, who scattered sweet peas along the canvassed aisle as the bride, stately and lovely in her wedding attire, came in last, alone. The bride's gown was an elegant creation, being white embroidered chiffon over white satin, cut en train and with pearl trimmings. She carried a white satin bound Bible, and wore the conventional bridal veil.

The groom with his best man, Mr. G. B. Senff, met the bride at the altar where the man of God said the words which made these twain one. The beautiful ring ceremony was used. Miss Engleman played softly "Call Me Thine Own," during the ceremony. The pair stood under a large bell of pink roses which swung from the arch overhead as the ceremony was said and then departed from the church to the strains of the wedding march by Mendelssohn. After the ceremony the young couple drove to the bride's residence and there changing to traveling costume they went to Danville by automobile where they caught the five o'clock train for Lexington, and there taking the C. & O. for a two weeks trip to the eastern cities and summer resorts.

The many beautiful presents testified to the popularity of the young couple.

Mrs. Anderson does not come to us a stranger as she has often visited in the city and county, and by her sweet disposition and winning manner has already established for herself a place in our affections and it is with sincere pleasure we welcome her to our midst. Having those splendid attributes of character that go to make up the true woman and wife she will prove herself a worthy life-partner of the man who was so fortunate as to win her. Mr. Anderson is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Anderson and is one of the best known young men in the county. A young man of sterling character and high morals, he enjoys the esteem and confidence of all who know him.

The Advocate joins their host of friends in wishing them the happiness they so richly deserve.

BEAUTIFUL DINNERS.

Two beautiful dinners were given the members of the bridal party of the Woods-Anderson wedding at Stanford last week. The first one given Monday evening by Mrs. William H. Shanks at her residence on Logan avenue. The dinner was exquisitely served in seven courses, and the occasion was indeed a merry one. The second one given Wednesday evening by Mrs. S. J. Embry, Jr., at her handsome country home on the Lancaster pike and was served in five courses. The dining room was beautifully decorated the color scheme, yellow and white, being carried out to the smallest detail even to the ices and the small individual cakes with the initials of the bride and groom on them. The party spent a most enjoyable evening.

Bond Issue Carried.

At the election held last Friday on the question of whether or not the School Board should be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $15,000 for the erection of new school buildings or additions to the present building, etc. The Board was authorized to issue the bonds by a vote of 163 to 12. This is a very light vote but it was doubtless caused by the voting being held at the school building which is situated some distance from the business portion of the city.

It is understood that the bonds will be floated at once and the improvements started as soon as possible and when they have been completed Mt. Sterling will have one of the most up-to-date school buildings in the State.

It was reported here Thursday that Van Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Green, who formerly resided on Harrison avenue, this city, had been killed by falling from a telephone pole at Paintsville, Ky. Later there were rumors that the report was incorrect and that Mr. Green was seriously injured but not killed.

Mr. Green was born near Salt Lick, Bath county, but came to this city several years ago and is well known here. He is about 23 years of age.

FREE TRIP TO ATLANTIC CITY AND ALL EASTERN CITIES

GIVEN BY
Mt. Sterling Advocate to 5 Most Popular Young Ladies

Hotel Where the Advocate's Party Will Stop in Atlantic City.

THE MONTICELLO
ONE OF ATLANTIC CITY'S MOST POPULAR HOTELS

This is one of the most fashionable Hotels in the world and is located just one-half square from the famous "Board Walk."

Oh You Atlantic City

Atlantic City, "the beauty spot of the whole world," has been written and talked so much about that it is a household word in not only every home in America, but in Europe as well. It is the mecca of the world for the richest class during the summer months, particularly during the months of July and August, and it is not surprising to see strolling along the great board walk or taking a cooling dip in the surf, the kings and queens of Europe, the Rockefellers and Morgans of America—all there with but one thought in mind—to have the time of their lives. And they have it, too.

The great board walk, about which so much has been written, is a great steel esplanade, elevated and reaching for seven miles along the ocean front. It is crowded from morning 'till night with throngs of people from this country and Europe its entire length. Three thousand rolling chairs glide over the "board walk" continuously in which ride the millions of the world. The bathing beach is easily the finest in the world. It is said that in Atlantic City, at the height of the season, there are as many as 80,000 people in bathing at the same time. Just think of it; 80,000. What a wonderful sight to behold!

Extending far out into the ocean from the beach are six massive piers over a mile in length. These piers are literally covered with every kind of amusement that one could conceive; each one is a veritable World's Fair within itself. One could spend hours on each and every one of these piers and immensely enjoy every one.

In short, Atlantic City leads the entire world as the grandest amusement resort on the globe today. And it is to this truly wonderful place that the five popular young ladies from Mt. Sterling and surrounding counties will go as the honored guests of the Advocate. Then after our party has enjoyed this magnificent outing, they will be taken first to Baltimore; then to the staid old Philadelphia, and then to the most interesting city in the universe—Washington, D. C.

Now, can you picture in the widest flights of your imagination a more enjoyable, a more truly delightful outing than this one? Expense has been entirely forgotten in planning the itinerary and the sole thought in the mind of the management is to make it the grandest outing that was ever offered a bunch of girls anywhere.

TO ATLANTIC CITY IS THE SLOGAN

Old Sol has been the cause of many Mt. Sterling people preparing for a visit to the seaside. Are you going to take an outing this year? If you are, you'd better take a tip from the gentleman who seems just now to be making an attempt to put the thermometer out of business, gather your duds together and make a straight shoot for the seashore. There and there only will you find relief from the sweltering atmosphere that has caused the ice man to grin from ear to ear the past few days.

Atlantic City, New Jersey, "The City by the Sea," is the one cool spot on the earth during the summer months, and to this greatest of all resorts the richer class flock by thousands. At the height of the fashionable season which will begin in a few weeks, it is said that there are more people to the square inch in this beautiful amusement place than any spot of the same size in the world. So if you want to be in "the social swim" as well as to escape this almost unbearable heat, make your preparations to follow the crowd and spend your outing in Atlantic City. The Advocate will take you free.

THE DISTRICTS.

During the time of the contest, the territory covered by the Advocate has been divided into five districts, thus making the winning of the race much easier for the candidates.

Understand one young lady will be sent from each district. Of course, the one receiving the highest number of votes in her district.

The following are the districts and their boundaries:

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Begins at the C. & O. depot in the center of Bank street, thence north up center of said street to Howard avenue; thence up center of Howard avenue to corner of Howard avenue and Clay streets; thence east to center of Maysville street; thence north to the city limits, including all the territory lying east of said line in the city limits.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Shall comprise all the balance of the city lying west of the line as indicated in District No. 1.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Is composed of the following voting precincts: Aarons Run, Side View, Grassy Lick, Levee and Beans.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Camargo, Jeffersonville, Howards Mill, Harts, Smithville and Spencer.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

The counties of Bath, Clark, Menefee and Rowan.

Although divided into districts, contestants may solicit votes anywhere.

RULES OF THE ELECTION.

Any young lady of good character, sixteen years of age or over, residing in any of the five districts is eligible to enter the contest.

To nominate a girl, merely place her name on a slip of paper, or better still, fill out the coupon in this issue and drop it into the ballot box in this office.

The young lady must reside in the district in which she is entered, although she may receive votes from any source whatsoever.

Remember, all those entering the race before June 1st will receive a bonus of 3,000 votes.

TO OUR PATRONS.

If there is anything at all about the entire contest that you do not fully understand, either call or address the Contest Manager at Advocate office.

The contest will be conducted in a fair, straightforward, open manner, and the management will take pleasure in explaining any detail that is not quite clear to any one.

Address all inquiries, etc., to
THE CONTEST MANAGER,
Care The Advocate.

The Emotional Sex.

Women are less emotional than men if the statement of a nerve specialist is to be believed. Women "give way" to their feelings because it is allowable. Men control themselves by heroic effort because they must. They would enjoy "a good cry" if they weren't ashamed to be seen sobbing and mopping away tears.

If this is true our novelists and poets have misled us. Instead of saying that Ethelbertha, overcome by emotion upon learning of the depths of Montmorency's unsuspected love, could do nothing but fling herself upon Montmorency's shoulder and weep hot passionate tears, the novelist should tell the reader that Ethelbertha wept at this point because it is done in the best families, and that Montmorency didn't because the custom does not obtain among men, although the temptation to indulge in this form of expression is universal in the sex.

Vexation, bereavement—as for example the sudden death of a cat, a parrot or a poodle—disappointment such as failure to receive an invitation to the theater or a proposal of marriage from a young man her best girl friend regards as "cinched," and numerous other causes are commonly regarded as legitimate producers of tears in the eyes of women. Men are not popularly supposed to feel an overwhelming inclination to give way to tears under similar provocation. If any of them do feel it they are not weak enough to indulge in an emotional outburst or frank enough to admit that they have a tendency in that direction. It would be interesting to hear confessions from a score of representative business and professional men upon this subject. Surely here is a first rate opportunity for interviews with our leading citizens upon how hard it is to keep from "bursting out crying" in certain circumstances.

When the market falls off two points just after you have bought for a rise do you feel like weeping? When the tire blows out on a curve and you survive the catastrophe only to find yourself twenty miles from the nearest restaurant at lunch time, do you feel the hot tears rising to your eyes? When you awake at 9 o'clock after having sat up with a sick friend to find that the ice man has not left you anything with which to console an aching brow, do you wish you sob on some sympathetic shoulder? When you play the favorite to win and a runk outsider gets his nose under the wire an eyelash-width in advance of the nose of the favorite, leaving you without the summer suit you had intended to buy upon the proceeds of the speculation, do you yearn to take the starch out of Arabella's shirtwaist with a copious discharge from your lachrymal glands?

Are tears not "woman's natural weapon," but man's? If so has not the "sterner sex" committed a costly error by failing to avail itself of this natural weapon?

Everyone knows that when women resort to tears—resort is the word, and not "give way" if the nerve specialist is right—they adopt the course best calculated to gain their point. The man who does not become a poltroon before a weeping woman, and agree to anything from buying the extravagant parlor carpet to discharging the blameless blonde stenographer and employing a freckle-faced young man in her place, is made of adamant, a material oftener employed as a figure of speech than found in the anatomy of your neighbor.

Tears, it seems, are woman's point-gainer, argument crusher, precedent smasher, scruples destroyer, enemy annihilator, rival walloper and ever-present-in-help-in-time-of-trouble, not because woman's tears are naturally quick to rush to her defense, but because she was cleverer than man at the beginning and got the bulge on him in the matter of their use. Had men established weeping as their especial field of activity in the interest of the attainment of their ends and made it unmanly to weep—so manly that no really womanly woman would be caught with the trace of a tear in her eye—what victories might men not have achieved over the obstinate—that is to say fair—sex?

But it is too late. No matter what nerve specialists may have to say about man's inborn fondness for a good cry he cannot compromise his traditional dignity by indulging in it. He must pull a stiff upper lip and see himself defeated daily with his own weapon, turned against him by woman, who saw her opportunity some time ago, availed herself of it and got along happily without biceps ever afterward.

Telegraphs President.

G. W. McCormick yesterday sent a telegram to President Taft. The message follows:

To his Unitarian excellency and his chief executive duty over a people who have a constitutional right to pursue happiness and worship GOD according to the dictation of right and universal conscience, I, a subject of your domain by birth of a Republican parentage, make this appeal to you:

That whereas the great Southern Presbyterian Church in national conference assembled at Louisville, Ky., have declared that the great church of Kingcraft and Priestcraft of the Pope of Rome, with his American cardinals, bishops and priests of crowned authority, a menace to Christian rights—rites—and writes of man within the bounds of the best government the world ever saw; won't you kindly cable at once the King of Italy and the Pope of Rome, to recall the said cardinal and priestcraft, sworn lies, back under their mother monarchy and thus head off an unnecessary conflict between right and wrong, Rome and reason?

George William McCormick, a person born with the right to pay tax and vote. — Frenchburg Agitator.

GEORGIA MARBLE

Since the very earliest ages of history, marble everywhere has been recognized as pre-eminent in the construction of the world's greatest monuments and buildings, and Georgia Marble contains those durable qualities for which the stone from the ancient quarries was so justly famous. In beauty Georgia Marble stands without an equal. It matches up perfectly, and when lettered shows a striking contrast that renders the inscription readable from a distance. The crystalline formation is so closely interlocked as to prevent the slightest degree of absorption or decomposition, rendering it proof against climatic conditions, and it remains beautiful and unbroken always.

ANOTHER SCHOOL BUILDING ASSURED.

By the decisive majority of 165 to 12, the bond issue proposition carried Friday, guaranteeing another school building at no distant date.

To our excellent public school, of which the writer is a graduate, we are indebted for such education as we possess and but for which our chances to secure one, would have been very slight indeed. We therefore felt it our duty to not only vote, but to work for this bond issue, as we will for any other measure that may be presented in the future, calculated to insure to the boys and girls of our City the very best educational advantages possible.

With another building to accommodate the pupils, Mt. Sterling will have a public school of which every citizen should feel justly proud.

A GOOD MOVE.

As shown by the official notice found in this issue, our Fiscal Court intends to enforce the law regarding delinquent tax-payers. For years, the law requiring such delinquents to work out the amount of taxes due on the public roads, has not been observed. More than one thousand citizens are on the delinquent list in this county alone; many, in fact most of them, can and will pay their taxes if this law is complied with. The Legislature could collect in every county in the State, thousands of dollars now lost in this way by enacting a law requiring the production of a tax receipt on election day. Every man should pay his just proportion of the cost of maintaining our government, and until he does so, should have no voice in the management of it.

It now looks like work has started on our turnpikes in earnest. Last week the Fiscal Court let contracts for 530 rods of knapped rock to the lowest and best bidder and has advertised for bids on 1600 rods more. Let the good work go on, the more the better.

GOVERNOR GRAY

Wins Twenty - Ninth Latonia Derby From Good Field.

Governor Gray, the Big Kentucky gelding, won the 29th Latonia Derby, last Saturday from a field composed of such cracks as Star Charter, Colstor, White Wool Any Port, Messenger Boy, Mud Sill and Uncle Ben. The Williams colt was allowed to trail his field for the first mile, but when called on forged to the front and won by six lengths. The time for the 1½ miles being 2:30 1-5, breaking the track record by nearly two seconds and coming within 3-20 of a second of equaling the world's record held by Goodrich, at Washington Park, Chicago, in 1898. Fully fifteen thousand people were present to see the race.

The magnificent race Saturday shows clearly that Governor Gray was the victim of a very bad ride, and then some, in the recent Kentucky Derby where he was beaten by Meridian.

This is the second Derby won by Governor Gray he having easily won the rich American Derby at Jacksonville, April 1st. The following is the record of the horse. He has started 30 times, has won 11 races, been second 7 times, third 4, and unplaced 8 times, and has won $13,412 for his owner and is now only a three-year-old. As a two year-old Governor Gray ran five furlongs in 59 seconds winning the race and breaking the track record. At Lexington he won the Blue Grass Stake 1 1-8 miles in 1:51 2-5 also breaking a track record. At Jacksonville he ran 1½ miles in 2:04 4-5, winning the American Derby and breaking the track record. So with his 1½ mile race Saturday in record breaking time certainly stamps him as a wonder.

The following shows the mile and a half records:

American record, Goodrich, three-year-old, 102 pounds up, in 2:30½, made at Washington Park, Chicago, June 16, 1898.

English record, Sprite, five-year-old, 106 pounds, 2:29.

Governor Gray, three-year-old, 124 pounds, 2:30 2-5, at Latonia June 10.

Best previous Latonia Derby record, 2:32½, held by Hand d'Or, made in 1898.

Governor Gray's race is the best ever run at a mile and a half, considering the weight carried.

$22.50 suits cut to $16.48.

Spanish deputies, some of whom are agitating for a salary, already enjoy certain privileges. They are entitled to frank their letters and to travel on all the railways in Spain free of charge. Of this there is an unlimited supply, and lady visitors to the chamber are always presented with a packet of this delicacy, which serves to sweeten the debates.

HON. WILLIAM ADDAMS AND THE TOBACCO GROWERS.

Kentucky-Tennessee Journal, Guthrie, Ky.

Hon. William Addams, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, should be carefully considered by the tobacco growers of Kentucky, lest they make a mistake in overlooking in him a friend in need.

Mr. Addams, by reason of necessity, began the battle of life in an extremely humble way and what success he has attained has been by reason of a strict devotion of his attention to business on the "live and let live" principle. He is now one of the most prosperous citizens of Harrison county and no one in Central Kentucky, where he is well known, is more highly regarded.

Mr. Addams for a number of years has been engaged in farming and tobacco growing, and no one is better acquainted with the farmer and the tobacco grower than he, nor is any one better acquainted with the tremendous sacrifices they have been compelled to make to the trusts in general and to the tobacco trust in particular. Fully realizing the unfortunate conditions prevailing among the tobacco growers, Mr. Addams, together with W. B. Hawkins, of Fayette county, and other public spirited citizens, in 1904 undertook the organization of the first Burley tobacco pool. In that campaign Mr. Addams acted as Chairman of and organized Harrison county. In the next campaign, in 1905, Mr. Addams was Vice-President of the Burley Tobacco organization, and labored hard and faithfully for the cause of this downtrodden class of the best type of American manhood. In 1906 and 1907 a new organization was affected, but Mr. Addams, while not an officer, still led the fight in his county and at all times since while holding no official position in the pool organization, he has been a pooler of his individual tobacco and has stood faithfully with those so gallantly fighting for their rights.

Therefore being a business man, a farmer and tobacco grower and in close sympathy with the needs of this class of our citizens, we say to the growers of the state they should carefully consider his candidacy, for we do recognize in him a friend in need who we know will be a friend indeed.

A large supply of vegetable matter in the soil is absolutely necessary in the production of good crops. It not only gives to the soil the essential physical conditions, but the supply of all soil nitrates is largely dependent upon its decay. In systems of farming where many of the products are sold and little stock is kept, it becomes difficult to keep the supply in the soil sufficient for the best results.

In the usual systems of rotation there are often opportunities between harvest time and seeding time of the crops employed in the rotation to plant some rapidly growing crop to be turned under to increase the supply of vegetable matter. Such crops are known as catch crops, and where they occupy the land during the winter also receive the name of cover crops. The use of such crops may add greatly to the producing power of the soil, while about the only expense involved is that of the seed. Cowpeas, soy beans, crimson clover, vetch, rye and in fact any crop adapted to the season, may be used for the purpose, but of course the leguminous crops are to be preferred as they also add nitrogen directly to the soil.

Cowpeas grow rapidly and if sown after wheat or oats are harvested will give a good growth of vines to plow under. They may also be sown in corn at the last cultivation and while not interfering with the growth of the corn at all, provide considerable green matter by the time the corn is ready to harvest. Where crimson clover will succeed it is a most valuable catch crop, as most of its growth takes place in fall and early spring. The common practice is to sow it in the corn, usually during August as the shade of the corn plants seems to protect the young clover and it will succeed better than if sown without a nurse crop. It will make considerable growth by the time the land is to be plowed in the spring and serves as a cover crop also. Crimson clover is a good nitrogen gatherer. Rye is undoubtedly the most popular catch crop, and justly so. It should be used in all cases where the land would otherwise lie bare through the winter, except in the case of fall plowed sod-land. It not only will add vegetable matter to the soil but will prevent the loss by leaching and washing of the plant food already there. It may furnish pasturage when the land is in such condition that tramping will not injure it, but it should not be allowed to grow too large in the spring before being turned under, or injury to the following crop may result.

Crops of weeds may be turned under with good results frequently, but of course should never be allowed to seed. In fact every opportunity to add something to the soil in this way should be

BEAUTY DOCTOR'S NEW BUG

Discovers That Woman's Good Looks Are Regulated Largely by Thermometer.

The photographer's schedule was disarranged half an hour because it took that long to get the studio exactly at a temperature of 70 degrees. "And the thermometer had to register just that before the woman who made an appointment for three o'clock would consent to pose," he said. "Women who sit for photographs are very particular nowadays about the temperature of the room. Beauty doctors have discovered that a woman's good looks are regulated largely by the thermometer. There is a certain degree of heat or cold at which every woman looks her best. By experimenting the beauty specialist has found the becoming temperature for each of his patrons, and when the women visit a photographer no power on earth can persuade them to sit in a studio whose air is above or below that figure. When you handle a succession of subjects whose beauty temperature varies from 60 to 80 degrees it is not an easy matter to regulate atmospheric conditions on short notice."

TAKES OPTIMISTIC VIEW.

Dr. Isaac Funk, one of the members of a well-known book firm, believes, with Dr. Sargent, that women have advanced greatly within the last 50 years and that they approximate more nearly the masculine form and trend of thought. But he thinks that in the next 50 years there will not be any very great change in this direction, but that the laws which govern perpetuation will limit her advance.

HISTORY

Of Somerset Christian Church.

Written for the Advocate by Hon. J. T. Highland.

Last week two men were standing on the pavement of Mt. Sterling, one of the leading lawyers asked this question: "Do you know of a real successful country church?" What do you mean by a successful church? "One that has existed for years, the community and country better, religiously, financially, educationally and has a bright future before it." Yes, Somerset church in our county, was the answer.

To prove this assertion it requires some history of this church. In the year 1828, Preacher John Smith (better known as Racecoon Smith) conducted a protracted meeting in the woods five miles north of Mt. Sterling on the waters of Somerset creek. The settlement of farmers out there, was known as Johnsons, Allens, Hathaways, Williams, Clarks. The meeting was a success; thirty or forty additions; who then resolved to build a church house. Mr. Clark gave two acres of land, that was one mile west of the new Somerset church, work was commenced, the members dug a well 33 feet deep and today the passer-by can quench his thirst from its cool water, many thousand bricks were made, four walls 80 by 50 feet erected and covered with shingles made from trees that stood on the two acres. This house had four doors, four 6 foot wood fireplaces, two 3 foot stoves, it had a row of columns for support, it had no floor for three years, the seats were trees split open with large pegs 20 inches long to hold them up and they had no backs.

It was in the summer of 1831, sills were placed around inside the walls and a floor laid. Although out in the woods and this homely building, there was prayer meeting three Sundays and preaching one Sunday of each month. The church prospered with 40 to 70 additions each year, school houses came forth, farmers grew wheat as white as the swan, bluegrass covered the white calf's back and fruit of all kinds grew. All was happy until the year 1863, war and rumors of war, soldiers camped in the woods where now stands Somerset church. Soldiers on every pike, many of them negroes; Rebels from the South were in and out; no good horse was safe at home or church; no women attended church (women then as now were Gods principal helpers) there were three men of Somerset, met and resolved that they would be at God's house every Lord's day, have the communion unless sickness or some insurmountable difficulty came up. For several Sundays the three men were all that were present; David Hathaway, the singer; Denman Highland to talk and Newton Lane the man of prayer. Hathaway was leader of the song services for years. If you sat next to him you could not hear a word of the first line, but before the wind up of that good old song, "How Firm a Foundation," I have heard him a quarter of a mile away. He has a daughter living in Mt. Sterling Mrs. Katie Adair; Newton Lane one, Mrs. Mng Lane and Denman Highland one, Mrs. Games. One Sunday morning Hathaway and Highland were in their places, but Lane did not come. The two laid song and prayer, waited at table and with heavy hearts dismissed; they felt that there was something wrong with Brother Lane. A few hours later news came that Lane had started but near where Judy now stands, he met a Michigan Captain at the head of 100 negro soldiers. The Captain cried out halt, Lane halted and took off his hat; right about face, ride with me; Lane said no, I have promised the Lord and two members, I would be at church every Lord's day, that he was a loyal Union man and must go on to his appointment. The Captain cried out present arms, and four or five negro soldiers thrust their bayonets near Lane's breast. He had to turn and ride along with the Captain. The Captain interrogated who lived in each residence, were they loyal or secesh. If secesh he would have their house searched although Lane would protest. After going across Hinkston creek he released Lane; it was then 2 o'clock. He started through the woods home several hundred yards from the pike, a Mr. McClure stepped from behind a tree, (everybody hid out when squads of soldiers passed): Mr. Lane where are the soldiers going? "To hell I am in hopes." McClure reported the trouble that evening to Hathaway and Highland, who, by-the-way were southern sympathizers, each having a son in the southern army. Highland and Hathaway felt it their duty in the name of the church and for the good of the cause, to indict Lane for using "cuss words," "To hell I am in hopes" and next Lord's day was fixed for his trial, an eye-witness said that there were thirty or forty present to hear the court, but the case went by default as the principal witness, McClure, was not present. Lane as usual was called upon to pray; then, everybody kneeled, their was no hobbles skirts; no man was afraid his blue jean pants would rip, made by mother. Amid silence kneeling Lane said, O, Lord if I have thought, said done, what I ought not thought, said or done in the last week I ask pardon, I love my fellow man, but there is one devilish Captain I never can forget and I never will forgive.

This case is recited because it is the only "law" case remembered in the life of 85 years of this church. Lane was a good staunch Union man and always voted that way, and it is said, it was never too cold or too hot, or rainy from that day for Lane, that he would go to Sharpsburg on election day and vote the Democratic ticket. Soon after the war, Brother Lane passed to his home beyond. Joseph Johnson now of Sideview, was elected in Lane's place. Johnson is 86 or 87 years old and has been in his seat at church seven straight Sundays although living six miles away. He has five children who hold membership in this church to bless and encourage his last days.

Milton Jamerson was elder of this church, grandfather of Milton Goodwin, the efficient County School Superintendent. Jamerson was also the grandfather of Hon. Claud M. Thomas, State Senator from Bourbon county. Jamerson died in 1870, J. T. Highland was chosen as elder in his stead. Highland has four children and three daughter-in-laws, all happy members of this church. Samuel Carrington also an elder died, and N. B. Young was chosen

CANDIDATE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL.

HON. JAMES GARNETT.

It is with pleasure that we present an excellent likeness of Hon. James Garnett, of Adair county, who aspires to be the Democratic nominee for Attorney General. Mr. Garnett comes from the Eleventh Congressional District and is the only candidate before the primary from that District asking for any nomination. His friends feel that the Eleventh District, where it requires courage to be a Democrat, should have representation on the State Ticket. Mr. Garnett is a lawyer of well known ability. For years, on the stump and otherwise, he has fought the battles of his party and with the exception of having been County Attorney of Adair county for two terms, has never before been a candidate for any office. He has also served as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee and since reaching his majority has occupied a prominent position in the councils of his party. We therefore recommend him to the favorable consideration of our Democratic readers.

in the year 1877 or 1878. The writer said to Johnson Young, the church elected Natt elder yesterday, they could not have elected a better man sir, and after 33 years of Christian work with him, I am ready to say with the Father there could not have been a better officer. Young has one son and daughter-in-law members of this church.

In the fall of November 1874 old Somerset burned accidentally. There was a called meeting of the members, 70 voted to build on old foundation, 170 or 180 voted to move out on the pike. When the first church was built there was no pikes in the county. The vote was made unanimous, and one acre of land was secured one mile east, 4½ miles from Mt. Sterling on the Maysville pike. In August 1875 the new Somerset was dedicated and not a dollar was called for. Billy Burrough was collector and settled everything before dedication.

In the last thirty-five years there has been fully 1000 additions; these members are scattered from the white cotton fields of North Carolina to the golden shores of California, from Maine to Texas, all glad that they were members of Somerset church. At present there is 280 names on the church register, a Sunday school average of 60. Several years ago a business man a member of no church, handed the collector $20 saying I own 300 to 400 acres of land three miles of this church and I know the influence of you people add $5. to every acre, and I wish to give you $20 every year, and he did until he moved to Bourbon county. The wish of the congregation is that he become a member of some religious body.

January 1881 a Sunday school was organized and it has been called to order every Sunday since, and the bible is taught in its purity. Preaching every Lord's day, by an able, good man. God might have fitted up a world of independent beings, but He did not; He wished us to be a sympathetic people, and sympathy is one of the paramount topics taught, mutual love, the blow that strikes one member strikes all; they rejoice together; they pray for the sick member. If he dies they bow their heads and go sadly to the grave. These good things seem to be deeply impressed upon all who join Somerset, and their prayer is, the coming generations of young people around Somerset, may be prepared to carry on the blessed work when their leaders and parents have descended to the tomb.

Good lawyer we claim our country church is a success.

P. S.—In the year of 1856 or 1857, a preacher by the name of Richerson from Virginia, stopped at Somerset on Brother Smith's day. He was invited to the pulpit to preach; after he had preached two hours and ten minutes, Brother Smith said, had you not better quit so we can go home for dinner. Hathaway said let him labor on the subject a little longer, and several thought Brother Smith did not treat the visiting brother with proper courtesy. Smiths usual time to preach was one hour and thirty minutes.

Scientific Corn Growing.

It is to be hoped that many Kentucky farmers are reading the letters of Frank G. Carpenter in the Sunday Courier-Journal, in which he is telling some of the things that are being accomplished by scientific farming. Mr. Carpenter has gone to the fountain head of information for his facts. He is getting his data from the Department of Agriculture in Washington. Otherwise it might be suspected that he had taken to writing fairy stories.

It may be difficult for some of our Kentucky farmers to understand how a Southern boy could grow 228 bushels and three pecks of corn on a single acre of land; how twenty boys in South Carolina could raise 1,700 bushels of corn on twenty acres; how numbers of boys all over the South have made records of more than 100 bushels to the acre in corn growing in States where the average of production is twenty bushels to the acre or less. These things are not easily understood by the farmer who is plugging along, more or less contentedly, in the same way that his grandfather did, about the only difference being that he has not improved upon his grandfather's crop records because he has allowed his land to deteriorate.

Mr. Carpenter has been looking into the achievements of the Agricultural Department pretty thoroughly and he tells us that in the past four or five years scientific farming has added hundreds of millions of dollars to the value of the American harvest. He shows from the figures, official and indisputable, that the corn crop in nine Southern States in the year 1910 was bigger by 158,000,000 bushels than the crop of the year previous. The South in 1910 raised one-third of all the corn in the United States. Good old Dr. Knapp is dead, but his corn clubs are marching on.

Kentucky has not been so progressive in these matters as the Southern States have been, but Kentucky is waking up, and the boys' corn clubs are getting busy in every part of the Commonwealth. Some good records were made last year. This year there will be better records and more of them, and after awhile the honest farmer who is farming on the antediluvian plan will sit up and take notice.
